Title: Home, sweet home?

Caption: An old man stays on the street every day.

Commentary:      What's your favourite place? Is it a shopping mall, a cinema or any public place for entertainment? For me, home is the best place!

                         If you feel tired, you can go home and take a rest. If you feel disappointed, you can get warmth and happiness from your family. If you study overseas, you will feel homesick because you miss your family. If one day you lose your home, what will you do?

                         This is a photo about an old man. He sleeps on the street every day; no matter it is hot summer or cold winter. But nobody cares about this serious social problem. I think he needs more attention and care from us since he doesn't have a warm home and he is very old. We should help him with our heart. For example, donate some money or some clothes to him.

                         We don't have any cause to complain that our life is not perfect when we see these unfortunate elderly.
