Commentary:	People like thinking of their future and roles in life, and even feel lost and frustrated when they cannot see a foreseeable future. Living is sometimes like searching for ways underground--you may be confused by display boards, and feel upset by not knowing where to go. People need an aim of life as a motive to work and struggle, but too much pressure on shoulders often costs us annoyance, depression and anxiety. Simply glance everywhere in MTR stations, people can be easily found being lost and seeking ways on the platforms. In fact, have you ever been one of them? Though we must have got some times of being exoriented, things can be different. Display boards and panels are actually your guide of life, which provide you with a variety of choices. You can select anyone of the ways that you like, which will reap you satisfaction and happiness, and take the way whole-h The value is here: life is a journey, it is true, it is colourful. Humans should have a life that is full of hopes and dreams. If you are doomed to be bewildered, life will become a source of frustration and sadness. There is no exact destination in everyone's life because you are the only one who are able to design and control your journey. Life is all about personal decisions and the choices. Furthermore, adventure is also worth trying as we may not know our real needs and will. Exploration and experience can give you some advice. Go and explore your way.
