Title:	Connecting to the Earth Max.8 words
Lyrics:	The world's dying fast, isn't it time to act? The trees are shrinking, flowers are wilting. Doomsday, we're near Doomsday. Colours are fading, the skies aren't blue now. The tides are rising, cities are drowning. Doomsday, we're near Doomsday. When will we change? When will we act? It's time for us to take big steps! Have a look around, the world's in a mess. This's my home, your home, our only home. Hand in hand, my friend, we can make a difference, Come on, it's time to change! Don't tell me you're too busy to do your bit. The cost of our wealth has claimed our nature. Doomsday, we're near Doomsday. Is money all that you will care? So are we dying to get it right? Stop pretending now, the world will blow up. Now won't you give some more, do more and care more? Hand in hand, surely, we can make a difference, It's time, it's time I change.

Lyrics Competition 2009

Time you change.
Time we change!
Come on!

The world will be better if you join the fight.
Drive out gloominess, let our flowers bloom.
All this can happen - we can make it happen!
Come on!
It all depends on you, to build a bright future.
We should keep holding on, there's always hope in life.
Believe in yourself, because we ought to win.
Victory. It's on our side.
It's on our side.
Come on!
