

Think Great Award Champion

Students name: Angela Leung, Laura Chow

School: Shung Tak Catholic English College

Entry No: 150

Theme:  Love

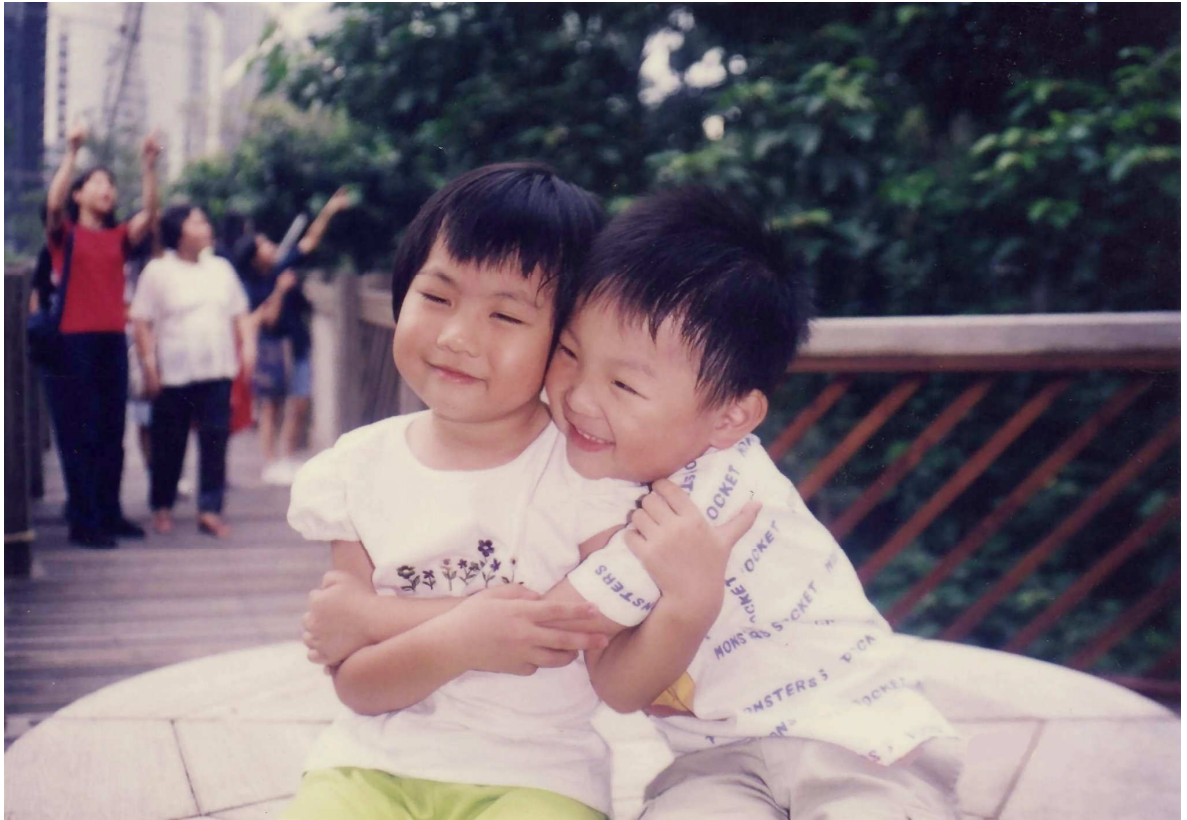

Division:  S.1 – 3  S.4 – 7

Title: Love is precious

Max.8 words

Picture:

(less than 2MB size)

Caption: This photo shows two cousins having a good relationship and hugging each other tightly.

Max.30 words

Inspired and Supported by:

Commentary:

S.1 – 3:

100 – 200 words

S.4 – 7:

200 – 300 words

There are many kinds of love — such as love between friends, love between family members or love between lovers. No matter what kind of love it is, it is valuable. In today's society, love between friends and family is always what people lack. The only thing they think about is earning as much money as they can. In order to earn more money, they will do everything. They may ignore their friends and family, or even cheat their friends and set them up. Their relationships worsen day by day. But do these sacrifices worth? With money, you may buy all the things you want except love and care. If you do not have love, you will feel miserable and lonely. If you have love, although you may not be able to buy the things you want, you still feel satisfied and happy. In my opinion, we should treat people with love like what we did when we were children. We should think less about money. We should also treasure love — the most precious and important thing in the world.

Inspired and Supported by:

